Introduction of the Qualified Invoice System

Dear customer

Thank you for using bitFlyer.

Following our initial announcement on Wednesday, Sep 13, 2023 on the introduction of the Qualified Invoice System in Japan and our corresponding measures, we would like to share further details below.

- Our official registration number as business issuer of qualified invoices

bitFlyer, Inc.: T2011101068824

For details, please refer to the National Tax Agency's official website for business issuers of qualified invoices.

(<https://www.invoice-kohyo.nta.go.jp/regno-search/detail?selRegNo=2011101068824>)

- How to issue qualified invoices

At bitFlyer qualified invoices will be compiled of a fee statement and the "TradeHistory.csv" file. As qualified invoices will be prepared for one month at a time, the invoice for a specific month can be requested and downloaded from a new invoice download page from the following month onward.

For details, please refer to our FAQ.

(<https://bitflyer.com/en-jp/faq/50-2>)

- Scope for qualified invoices

Qualified invoices will be available to customers who use services that are subject to consumption tax during the relevant period (monthly).

Customers who fall under the category of taxable businesses can use the qualified invoices in case they need to deduct tax on purchases.

For details, please refer to the website of the National Tax Agency (Japanese).

- Start date for issuing qualified invoices

As the qualified invoice system will be introduced on October 1, 2023, the first qualified invoices will cover the period of October 2023 and are scheduled to be available in early November 2023.

- Services subject to consumption tax

Various fees charged for the use of our company's services are subject to consumption tax.

For further details, please refer to our company's Fees and Taxes page.

For other information regarding the qualified invoice system, please refer to the FAQ below.
