

How We Share Information with Other Third Parties

BitFlyer may disclose necessary information about customers to third parties listed here to allow us to provide bitFlyer Services to you.

S/N	Name of third party	Location of third party	Categories of personal data processed	Purpose of processing personal data
1	bitFlyer Inc and authorised sub-contractors	Tokyo, Japan	All personal data collected from customer during onboarding and any information collected while the customer uses bitFlyer Services.	Provision of intercompany support and services from bitFlyer Inc to bitFlyer Europe S.A.
2	Jumio Corporation and authorised sub-contractors	California and Delaware, USA	The following personal data is shared: First and last names, date of birth, phone number, biometric data, ID image, email address, IP addresses, behavioural data and other data that the Customer instructs Jumio to collect from end-users or their devices.	Processing of personal data to the extent necessary to perform the online identity verification services of bitFlyer Europe customers.
3	Phoenix Solutions	Luxembourg	The following personal data is shared: First and last names, date of birth, phone number, identity documents, biometric data, ID image, email address, IP addresses, location and physical address, salary, annual income, occupation and source of wealth.	The provision of annual internal audit services to bitFlyer Europe as is required by Luxembourg laws.
4	Ernst & Young	Luxembourg	The following personal data is shared: First and last names, date of birth, phone number, identity documents, biometric data, ID image, email address, IP addresses, location and physical address, salary, annual income, occupation and source of wealth.	The provision of annual external audit services to bitFlyer Europe as is required by Luxembourg laws.
5	Interexy IT Infrastructure	Dubai, UAE	The following personal data is shared: First and last names, date of birth, physical address, Account/IBAN and BIC numbers of the customer.	The provision of API development services for bank integration.